It is forbidden to copy, transfer or distribute all or part of the content of the website without prior written permission. The contents of the website may only be published and processed with the prior written permission of the website operator and the indication of the source. Our visitors can download the content of the website, display it on their screen, or print it out, but they cannot duplicate it. Users can only use the content of the website and its parts for their own personal purposes. Copying with the intention of distribution requires the written consent of the website operator. Unauthorized use entails criminal and civil consequences. The operator of the website may demand compensation for material and/or moral damage caused by the infringement.

Taking responsibility

Some of the links on the website lead to websites operated by others, so the operator of the website disclaims any responsibility for any damage resulting from the use of this information. The operator of the website strives to provide accurate and authentic information, but assumes no responsibility for any damages resulting from the information.

Data protection

The operator of the website respects the basic constitutional right to the protection of personal data and acts in accordance with data protection laws when handling user data. When acquiring and processing users' data, it complies with the relevant provisions of the laws on the machine processing of personal data and on the protection of personal data and the disclosure of data of public interest.

The website operator does not collect personal data.

Cookies and data monitoring

A cookie is information that your browser stores on your computer. When you return to the website, the server computer automatically recognizes the cookie, providing information about your last visit. Most browsers automatically accept cookies, but this can usually be disabled by changing the program's settings. If you decide not to accept cookies, you can still use most of the website's services. The website operator may also monitor the data in order to assess the popularity of various parts of the website, but the information collected in this way is not attached to personal data. If cookies are disabled, you may not be able to access certain parts of the website.

Rights

You have the right to request correction, update or deletion of your personal data stored by the website operator. Please indicate your request or any questions or comments regarding the management of personal data by e-mail.

Change of statement

The website operator reserves the right to modify the Privacy and Legal Statement from time to time. It informs you about changes affecting the use of your personal data.

Imprint

The owner and operator of the website is Saxon Kft. You can request written consent, data changes or any additional information at the following address: saxon@saxon.hu.

Who are we?

The address of our website is: <https://saxon.hu>

Comments

When submitting a comment, in addition to what is provided in the comment form, the commenter's IP address and browser identification string are collected in order to filter out unsolicited content.

A depersonalized character string generated from the e-mail address (usually called a hash) is transmitted to the Gravatar service if it is used on the site. The terms of the Gravatar service can be viewed at the following address:

<https://automattic.com/privacy/>. After the comment is accepted, the content of our comment and our profile picture will be publicly displayed.

Media

If an image is uploaded to the website by a registered user, EXIFs that include GPS position data should be avoided. Website visitors can download these and extract location data from the images on the website.

Cookies

If you write a comment on the website, the given name, e-mail address and website address are stored in cookies. The storage is for convenience purposes, so you don't have to fill in these fields the next time you post. The expiration date of cookies is one year.

When you visit the login page, we set temporary cookies in order to determine whether your browser accepts cookies. These cookies do not contain personal information and are deleted when you close your browser.

When logging in to the website, we create several cookies that save the login information and the display options of the editing interface. Login cookies are valid for two days, and cookies storing the display options of the editing interface are valid for one year. If the "Remember me" option is selected, the registration will continue for two weeks. Login cookies are removed when you log out.

If we edit a post or page, our browser stores another cookie. This cookie does not contain any personal data, it simply stores the ID number of the post that we have edited. It will expire in one day.

Embedded content from other websites

Posts available on the website may use embedded content from external sources (e.g. videos, images, articles, etc.). Embedded content from an external source behaves exactly as if you had visited another website.

These websites may collect data about visitors, use cookies or third-party tracking code, monitor user behavior related to embedded content if you have a user account and are logged in to the site.

With whom we share user data

If you request a password reset, the IP address will be included in the reset email.

How long do we keep personal data?

If we comment, the comment and its metadata will remain in the system for an unspecified period of time. The purpose of this is that all subsequent comments become known and approved by us, i.e. they do not appear on the list of comments to be moderated.

The personal data of users registered on the website (if any) is also stored in their own user profile. All users can view, edit or delete their personal data at any time (except that they cannot change their own username). Website administrators can also view and edit this information.

What rights does the user have in relation to his own data?

In case of a registered account or writing a comment on the website, it is possible to request the sending of personal data in an export file, which contains any data previously provided by the user. You can also request that we delete any previously provided personal data. This does not apply to data that we are required to retain for administrative, legal or security reasons.

Where we transfer the data

Comments submitted by visitors can be checked by an automatic spam filtering service.
